Heavy Shipments of Citrus Fruit Expected

With the removal of embargoes on the Southern Pacific road, heavy shipments of citrus fruit are expected to move through Ogden yards immediately, according to reports from the Pacific Fruit Express company. Shipments between San Francisco and Omaha are now possible, it is stated, but embargoes still in effect on eastern roads continue to hold up heavy transportation of perishable goods.

Fruit growers of California are reported to have lost thousands of dollars because of the strike, lack of transportation causing loss of oranges through spoilage.

Preparations are being made for shipments for early fruits and vegetables, many of which are expected within a few days.

'FRIENDLY ENEMIES' ORPHEUM WEDNESDAY

Louis Mann Will Play Matinee and Evening Performances Here

The attraction announced for the Orpheum theatre, Wednesday evening and matinee April 28th, will be the most important of the season's offerings, "Friendly Enemies," a combination of player and play that has aroused the enthusiasm of New York theatregoers for 59 weeks, and which outside of its Metropolitan Amphitheatre, has been the greatest dramatic success of a decade in Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston. Mr. Mann's personal triumph in this sensational comedy by Samuel Shipman and Aaron Hoffman, has been one of the outstanding events of the past two seasons. Always a sterling actor, who not only knows his art, but who can lead it by the hand to the footlights and impress its value upon his audiences, Mr. Mann reached still greater achievement in the role of Karl Pfeiffer. The evolution of this character under the masterful touch of Mr. Mann marks the most striking episode in his career.

"Friendly Enemies" has been called the play for the nation. Mr. Mann makes it a play for the world. Endorsed by President Wilson as a comedy that should "trip the world with its sentiments," it has been the subject of the enthusiastic reception that will be accorded Mr. Mann at the Orpheum theatre.

Associated with Mr. Mann in the presentation of "Friendly Enemies," will be the comedians, Jess Dandy, Betty Alden, Joseph Sterling, Alan Hale and Marcelle Nelkon.

BATTALION FUND STILL IS SHORT

Chairman Douglas Gives Out Statement of Status in Drive Here

Editor of the Standard-Examiner:

Ogden, Utah, April 23d, 1920. Dear Sir:—As chairman of the Mormon Battalion Memorial Monument Committee of Weber County, I am frequently asked this question: "How are you getting along with your campaign for funds for the monument?" And in answering the question it only reaches the inquirer, I have, therefore, thought best to write you and ask you to publish a short statement that the public and those interested may be fully advised.

One reason why I ask you to publish the statement is this: On April 23rd you published a poem submitted by Dr. A. S. Condon, and as a heading for that article you said "Ogden's Quota for Battalion Fund Eighty Per Cent Subscribed." Then you followed by saying Ogden was allotted approximately $12,000 and of this amount $11,700 has been raised. This you will see is an error and has slightly militated against the work. Most thinking people would have said there has been a typographical error and the amount raised if eighty per cent would be $9,600 instead of $11,700 as stated. But, owing to the statement some have thought that we have reached the top whereas we are still about twenty per cent short. The $12,000 allotted is not for Ogden but for Weber county. Weber county's population is about fifty thousand so you see a small contribution from each individual would bring us the required amount, but as it is impossible to depend upon each individual in this, as in all cases where funds are raised, it necessitates a larger contribution from some to offset no contribution from others.

The committee has labored under some disadvantages such as influenza and stepping aside occasionally for other campaigns such as the Jewish Relief, and other that might be mentioned, thus necessitating the campaign for the Monument Fund to be drawn out longer than it otherwise would have been. However, those who are working for the fund are working sincerely, and it is their aim to not cease until the required amount is raised. It would be a pity and a step backward if this small amount required of us should fall short of one hundred per cent and the writer will say that with the efforts and determination of those in charge it will not fall short.

The exact amount raised to this date is $9,582.34, and the exact amount required of this county is $11,708.60. Thus, you will see we are still about twenty per cent short. The committee hopes the solicitors and those in charge of raising funds will not slacken their efforts but instead that they will increase their efforts until such time as the full amount is raised. Some of the wards have raised one hundred per cent and some are still in the arrears. Those who have reached the high mark of course, will not be called upon to contribute further but there are sections of the county that have not contributed their quota and upon these we call at this time to aid us.

We trust with the effort that is now being put forth that within a very short time we will be able to report that we have reached the required allotment for the county.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES A. DOUGLAS, County Chairman.

Greeks in Fight; One Goes to the Hospital

Nevada Ranchers Fear Heavy Loss of Crops

That Nevada ranchers are becoming doubtful as to the outcome of this season is the report from forest service headquarters, Nevada, with an average elevation nearly 1000 feet higher than Utah, has a short summer and because unusual spring weather is apparently cutting this season even shorter than usual, the farmers and ranchers feel that their crops will not have time to mature and that hard conditions will prevail, unless the summer extends several weeks into the fall of the year.

Thousands of head of cattle have died in Nevada during late winter and early spring because of hay shortage, it is stated.

ALLEGED CONFIDENCE GAME NIPPED IN BUD

SALT LAKE, April 24.—One of the most daring confidence games ever operated in Salt Lake was nipped in the bud today when police officers raided a suite of four rooms at 159 1-2 out Main street and found fake telephones, and telegraph instrument, piles of state money and four men, who are alleged to have operated an alleged "bunco" brokerage game.

The raid followed a report of L. C. Elerick, real estate man, recently of Phoenix, Ariz., and formerly of Caldwell, Idaho, who told the officers that the men operating the office had attempted to get him to invest $20,000 in stock.

The four men accused of operating the office are now sought by the police.

anchor and was drifting on the rocks when the indifferent captain escaped in his boat for other scenes. No, I am not excited, but measuring carefully my words. Oh, there was so much to do when he went away. The public moneys were being squandered by the incompetent "Get Rich Quick Walling-fords" and the "Colonel Mulberry Sellers" and strikes and high cost of living, and general unrest, confronted a once prosperous and happy people.

When our captain deserted the good ship to loom large with foreign royalty, he finally came back to his people broken in health and reputation. Providence had set us apart from the rest of the world and protected us with thousands of miles of ocean on either side, and the good ship of state was sailing merrily along till amateurs began to fool with the steering gear and she is now drifting onto the rocks, and now behold the frightened faces of the passengers who are trembling on her decks and looking into the baleful sky.

You say that "America owes the world something more than a dollar performance!" I say that America owes the world nothing, but she owes herself much, and will continue to owe it. Talk about a dollar performance while the billions of France are being nourished by the richest and most precious blood of our American manhood but why continue?

Very respectfully,

A. S. CONDON.
